2 Website CMS — Managing Page Sections

Every main page has its own CMS editor following the same 2-Column Section Manager layout.

How the 2-Column Section Manager Works

The left sidebar lists all sections in order. The right panel shows the edit form for the selected section. Saving only affects the section currently selected.

Controls on Every CMS Page

Control	What It Does
ON / OFF Visible on Page	Checked = section visible on live site. Unchecked = hidden from visitors but not deleted.
Remove Section	Marks section as Removed. Disappears from website. Restorable anytime.
Restore Section	Brings a removed section back to the live website.
Save Section Changes	Saves edits and syncs to the live website immediately.

 Sidebar Badges: ON = visible on site, OFF = hidden, REMOVED = off site entirely.

12 Dos and Donts — Best Practices

DO — Best Practices

- Always click Save Section Changes after editing.
- Test every change by clicking View Live Page after saving.
- Use Disable (uncheck Visible) instead of Remove for temporary hiding.
- Compress images before uploading (max 300KB per image).
- Keep SEO titles under 60 chars, meta descriptions under 155 chars.
- Respond to new leads within 24 hours.
- Sign out of the admin panel when done.
- Back up content by copying text before major edits.
- Use meaningful alt text for all uploaded images.
- Keep at least 1 active Hero Banner slide at all times.

DONT — Common Mistakes

- Do not enable Maintenance Mode accidentally - it blocks all visitors.
- Do not delete leads - mark as Lost/Closed to keep history.
- Do not upload very large images (over 2MB).
- Do not remove main nav items without planning a redirect.
- Do not share your admin password with anyone.
- Do not use the same password for admin as other platforms.
- Do not edit the same page in multiple browser tabs simultaneously.
- Do not run database migrations unless advised by the developer.
- Do not leave HTML tags unescaped in text fields.
- Do not delete media files actively used on the website.
